
Logging on to the PC

When turning on the computer, some screens may show the pxe boot option first. Pressing the escape will cancel this boot option and expedite OS load time.

Due to end of year imaging of the pc's an admin login may show by default on the login screen. To login under the provided domain account, click on switch user, select other user then enter the credentials provided.

